1. About the Publication Scheme

Every public authority covered by the Freedom of Information Law has a legal duty to maintain a publication scheme.

The purpose of a publication scheme is to make information readily available to the public without the need for specific written requests. Schemes are intended to encourage authorities to proactively publish information, to develop a culture of openness and participation.

The publication scheme lists the information which is readily available to the public. The list is divided into seven (7) different categories of information, to help you find the documents you are looking for.

This publication scheme commits the University College of the Cayman Islands to making information available to the public as part of its normal business activities.

The University College of the Cayman Islands will:

- specify the information held by the authority, which falls within the seven (7) categories below.
- proactively publish or otherwise make routinely available, information that is held by the authority and falls within the categories below.
- describe the methods by which specific information is made available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- list any fees charged for access to the information described in this scheme.
- publish or otherwise make information available, in accordance with the methods and fees stated in this scheme.

- make this publication scheme available to the public;
- regularly review and update the information made available under this scheme.

2. Information that may be withheld

The University College of the Cayman Islands will generally not publish:

- information in draft form;
- information that is not held by the University College of the Cayman Islands, or which has been disposed of in accordance with a legally authorised disposal schedule;
- information that is not readily available – for example: information that is contained in files that have been placed in archive storage, or is otherwise difficult to access.
- information, that is exempt under the FOI Act, or otherwise protected from disclosure – for example: personal information; or commercially sensitive information. Records containing exempt matters will be published in a redacted form, wherever it is practical to do so, indicating which exemptions apply.

In maintaining this publication scheme, we aim to be as open as possible.

However, there may be limited circumstances where information will be withheld from one of the categories of information listed in section 7: Categories of information.

Information will only be withheld where the FOI Law expressly permits it.

For example: where disclosure would breach the law of confidentiality, infringe personal privacy, harm the University College of the Cayman Island's (or another organisation's) commercial interests, or endanger the protection of the environment.

Whenever information is withheld, we will inform you of this and explain why that information cannot be released. Even where information is withheld, it may be possible to provide a redacted copy, with the exempt matter edited out.

If you wish to complain about any information which has been withheld, please refer to section 6: Complaints.

History

Government-sponsored tertiary education in the Cayman Islands began in 1975 when the Community College was established as a part-time institution. From 1976 to 1981 three other institutions - the Trade School, the Hotel School, and the Marine School - were founded. These schools were located at different sites and were supervised either by the Ministry of Education or the Ministry of Tourism and Labour.

In 1985, the Government of the Cayman Islands decided to centralise the administration of all public post-secondary educational institutions on the islands. The Hotel Training School, the Marine & Trade Training School, and the Secretarial/Business Studies Section of the Sixth Form of the Cayman Islands High School were amalgamated to form the Community College of the Cayman Islands.

In 1987, by an Act of the Legislative Assembly, the College was established as a semi-autonomous post-secondary educational institution.

In 2004, by an act of the Legislative Assembly, the institution's name was changed from the Community College of the Cayman Islands to the University College of the Cayman Islands.

Governance of the College, as stipulated in the University College Act, 2012 (Revision), is the responsibility of a Board of Governors and an Academic and Administrative Committee.
